CLIMATE CHANGE: CONVERSE, CONNECT & CARE

FRIDAY, MARCH 28
3 TO 9 P.M.

USC ANNEBERG SCHOOL FOR COMMUNICATION AND JOURNALISM

Admission is free. Reservations requested.
 RSVP at visionsandvoices.usc.edu
 Please visit our website for a complete schedule of events.

USC and NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory will come together to present a vibrant multimedia festival featuring dynamic opportunities to learn about the latest science defining climate change—and what we can do about this complex and crucial issue. Browse environment-themed art and design projects and technical exhibits. Hear and engage with climate scientists and policy experts as they discuss the latest research. Enjoy informative and insightful performances of music, theatre, film and comedy by environmentally concerned artists. By bringing art and science together, we gain new information and perspective about our values around rationality, nature and the planet we share.

Presented by USC Visions and Voices: The Arts and Humanities Initiative. Organized by the Earth Sciences Communication Initiative at USC. Co-sponsored by the USC Annenberg School for Communication and Journalism and NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

For more information, please visit our website or contact us at visionsandvoices@usc.edu or 213.740.0483.
